

SPOKE

Gonzaga College, Monday, July 14, 1986

Lipizzan stallions perform at sports centre

By Sheri Young

In a dramatic display of the skill and grace the original Iberian stallions of Lipizzan did at arena performance, July 13 and 14 at the Gonzaga Sports Centre located at the Gonzaga campus.

The stallions danced deftly to the beat of music and executed the movements with acrobatic movements while performing exercises from ancient Old Spanish (Portuguese).

Presenters from the show were going to the Equestrian and Spanish Riding Centre (Hartmann) said it was the pleasure to show the Lipizzan stallions to help other horses. "We also wanted to make people aware and know who Lipizzan is about the Lipizzaners."

With Lipizzan riders able to ride a performance and in the military, the audience enjoyed the show. "Lipizzaners perform better than any other stallions. It is not common to see more than one stallion in the same arena without a leading rider. Stallions are not known to fight to harm without a fight."

Another problem with stallions is the exercise was not limited. The most display of the "the white group" (Dance) to the stallions were used in battle against the military. The Lipizzan stallions were used in the military wars with the stallions were a hardworking horse with its head held high and its tail held high and its tail held high.

Lipizzan stallions were used in the military wars with the stallions were a hardworking horse with its head held high and its tail held high and its tail held high.

Lipizzan stallions were used in the military wars with the stallions were a hardworking horse with its head held high and its tail held high and its tail held high.

The stallions are not only beautiful but also in the military wars with the stallions were a hardworking horse with its head held high and its tail held high and its tail held high.

The Hartmann Equestrian Centre in a demonstration of Lipizzan and other

Stephen Clout presents Patricia Wray with a plaque for outstanding achievement in the 1986 Gonzaga College Commencement. Patricia Wray recently received her Bachelor's degree.

1,200 students graduate

By Don Scholten

Over 1,200 students will graduate from the 1986 Commencement of Gonzaga College. The event was held in the gymnasium at the Gonzaga Recreation Center.

Stephen Clout and Patricia Wray received Gonzaga College's first highest award and Clout received the James W. Clout Award and Wray the Margaret Award.

The James W. Clout Award consists of $1,000 and an awarded gold medal referred to the winner's progress in all things. The award was established in honor of the college's founding president and recognizes a combination of academic excellence, demonstrated leadership, and the making of a contribution to society.

The Margaret Award recognizes excellence in the program of study. Clout, a graduate of the Gonzaga College, received the award for his outstanding achievement in the field of study.

Clout, a graduate of the Gonzaga College, received the award for his outstanding achievement in the field of study.

In November of 1985, Clout graduated from the Gonzaga College Commencement and in 1986 graduated from the Gonzaga College Commencement.

Clout (CPS) served as a coach and was named the "most valuable player" in the Gonzaga College basketball team. He was named the "most valuable player" in the Gonzaga College basketball team.

Clout was named the "most valuable player" in the Gonzaga College basketball team. He was named the "most valuable player" in the Gonzaga College basketball team.

Clout was named the "most valuable player" in the Gonzaga College basketball team. He was named the "most valuable player" in the Gonzaga College basketball team.

Clout was named the "most valuable player" in the Gonzaga College basketball team. He was named the "most valuable player" in the Gonzaga College basketball team.

He said he was "honored" to receive the award, but added the money will help a graduate start his own business and his wife is expecting a baby.

Wray, a graduate of the Gonzaga College, received a $1,000 award from the Ministry of Colleges and Universities. This was the first award given to a graduate of the Gonzaga College.

Wray said she was "honored" to receive the award, but added the money will help a graduate start his own business and his wife is expecting a baby.

Wray was named the "most valuable player" in the Gonzaga College basketball team. He was named the "most valuable player" in the Gonzaga College basketball team.

Wray was named the "most valuable player" in the Gonzaga College basketball team. He was named the "most valuable player" in the Gonzaga College basketball team.

Is he Bobby Who's brother?

Matthew Bridges was welcomed warmly by a brother during his address at the 1986 Commencement of Gonzaga College. Bridges said he was "honored" to receive the award, but added the money will help a graduate start his own business and his wife is expecting a baby.

Bridges said he was "honored" to receive the award, but added the money will help a graduate start his own business and his wife is expecting a baby.

Bridges said he was "honored" to receive the award, but added the money will help a graduate start his own business and his wife is expecting a baby.

Bridges said he was "honored" to receive the award, but added the money will help a graduate start his own business and his wife is expecting a baby.

Bridges said he was "honored" to receive the award, but added the money will help a graduate start his own business and his wife is expecting a baby.

